

“I look forward to the challenge to serve our industry.”

— Rock Marcone, APi National Service Group president

April 26, 2010 — APi NATIONAL SERVICE GROUP (NSG) congratulates its president, Rock Marcone, on being selected to serve on the Governmental Affairs Committee for the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC). APi NSG knows he will prove to be an invaluable voice.

Marcone will bring current issues and ideas related to construction to the committee table. His professional attitude, which focuses on continuously innovating processes in an ethical business culture, closely aligns with the objectives of AGC’s Governmental Affairs Committee.

“I look forward to the challenge and to serve our industry, the AGC, and APi Group in the best possible manner,” Marcone said.

Having spent 26 years in the U.S. Army, Marcone has gained tremendous leadership experience and has continued enthusiasm when it comes to working with government organizations.

Marcone displays a passion for implementing more socially responsible and efficient processes into the APi NSG work culture, and his leadership potential is apparent through his success and growth within APi NSG throughout the past four years.

AGC is dedicated to managing and furthering the agenda of commercial construction contractors by staying in tune to the evolving technology, efficiency, and industry issues. AGC’s Governmental Affairs Committee is devised of highly recommended individual professionals to reflect on current and evolving regulations concerning construction. The committee also facilitates growing relationships with representatives of the Federal Government who handle construction projects.
